

Knight Talks on Water Issue and State Colleges

By JIM ADAMS

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, seeking Republican candidacy to the U. S. Senate, yesterday swung his campaign into Santa Clara valley with an optimistic note on the future of state colleges and blasts at Democratic opponent Clair Engle on the water issue.

Knight told The Spartan Daily newsmen yesterday morning:

"Our state colleges should be able to expand their programs to the point where they will be able to grant Ph.D. degrees."

The Governor denied or avoided accusations made Monday by Republican opponent Mayor George Christopher, but was careful to make no counter charges.

Devoting most of his campus speech to the water issue, Knight accused Democratic opponent Engle of "giving away" Colorado River water upon which "Southern California depends for its very existence."

ENGLE VS. CALIFORNIA

Expanding on similar charges he made in Los Angeles last week, Knight said the interstate battle (in which at least seven states are vying for water rights to the Colorado River) is essentially "Engle vs. California."

He said Engle cast the marginal vote in a U.S. House of Representatives committee that would "take away a vital part of the water California already has." The Governor implied Engle's move would aggravate the more local water controversy between Northern and Southern California.

"Any infringement on the South's water supply ultimately will result in greater demands by the South for importation of water from the northern counties—which Congressman Engle professes to serve," he said.

'IMPOSSIBLE TO ESTIMATE'

"It is impossible to estimate the full extent of the staggering damage that could result," he charged.

In keeping with advance notices that Knight's speech would be concerned with state colleges and the state school system, he mentioned briefly that he had "strongly recommended" the passage of the recent "pay boost for teachers" proposal (it failed). He added to education majors that he feels they should be able to expect salaries comparable to those in industry and in other professions.

Concluding his address he told the student and faculty audience "individual liberty" would be the basic philosophy that would guide his actions as U.S. Senator.

Observing that this phrase is often used and often meaningless, he declared: "When I say 'individual liberty' I mean that no person should ever be denied the right to succeed on the basis of race, creed or religion."

"If I am elected senator, I will put this philosophy into action."

LARGE CROWD HEARS TARDY GOVERNOR

Before nearly 1000 students and faculty members Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, seeking Republican candidacy for U.S. Senator, criticizes Democratic opponent Clair Engle on the interstate water issue. He charged that Engle had "given away"

Colorado River water vital to Southern California's "very existence." Knight was half an hour late after staying overtime in a press conference and making a short, unscheduled speech before a group of San Jose industrialists.

Pat Brown Ends SJS Political Week

Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, only major candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, will wind up the week's political activities with a campaign address at 3:30 this afternoon.

Brown has been campaigning for an accelerated school construction program, more pay for teachers, protection of small businessmen, immediate solution to the water problem and "the inalienable right of boys under 12 to build tree houses."

He is strongly opposed to Republican opponent William F. Knowland's stand on the "right to work" initiative (right to work in a union organized shop without belonging to that union).

The attorney general contends that such action would weaken organized labor.

Early in his campaign Brown declared: "Shall we go forward with balanced progressiveness, or shall this state turn backward with the Senator?"

"At the state level, the Senator has proposed nothing affirmative and constructive. His only bid has been to further divide our economy with unnecessary class warfare."

Editing and directing the show, which originates from TB34, will be David B. Shaver, radio-TV major. Ray Helsler, journalism major, is newsreel-cameraman. The newsreel was written and will be presented by Kenneth Cornett, advertising major.

Foreign news, a weather report, SJS news, features and sports will be included in the program. A special two-minute campus film feature on jaywalking will be shown. Actual commercials will be used this time, Greb pointed out. He stated that, on the two previous programs, public service announcements had been shown.

Six Compete in Dorothy Kaucher Reading Contest

A $50 prize will be awarded to a student whom judges will select as winner of the semi-annual Dorothy Kaucher Oral Reading Award today at 4 p.m.

Six readers will participate in the finals. All readers have earned their chance to compete in the contest after having gone through preliminary competitions.

Readers will include Christopher Brown, whose material will be selections from the whimsical British writer, A. A. Milne; Jeanne Cook, who has chosen "Portrait of Jennie" by Robert Nathan.

Jerry Harris will read Chekhov's "The Lottery Ticket." Sandra Lew is will interpret Alice Duerr Miller's poem, "White Cliffs of Dover." Clyde Phillips' selection will be "Old Man Adam and His Children" by Roark Bradford, and Adrienne Reaves will read Mark Twain's "Report from Paradise."

Contest chairman will be Nancy Dunn, winner of the Dorothy Kaucher Award during fall semester.

'Peace Day' To Be May 23

"Students Speak for Peace Day" has been set for May 23 by the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy.

The committee established the day to allow students across the country an opportunity to demonstrate in the cause of peace, according to committee spokesmen.

Among activities which will mark the special day are marches, bicycle caravans, chapel sermons and circulation of petitions for cessation of further nuclear testing.

Students who support the drive will wear blue arm bands.

The controversy both pro and con concerning nuclear bomb testing here at San Jose State College still is raging.

Red China Talk Today By Worthy

Newspaper correspondent William Worthy Jr., whose ban breaking entrance into Red China in 1956 made him the first reporter to visit the Communist country in seven years, will speak at 1:30 today in Morris Dailey Auditorium.

Worthy, one of three U.S. newsmen to enter Red China against the State Department's orders, will show motion pictures he filmed while behind the bamboo curtain.

It was in December of 1956 that Worthy, as special correspondent for Baltimore's Negro semi-weekly, Afro-American, arrived in Peking and made the first broadcast from China by a U.S. reporter since 1949.

His broadcast was monitored by CBS and rebroadcast. While in Red China, Worthy scouted around, sent stories to his paper and interviewed an American citizen being held prisoner.

As a result of Worthy's defiance of the State Department's ban on allowing U.S. newsmen to enter Red China, his passport was revoked and he has been unable to have it renewed.

A suit in Worthy's behalf has been filed in Federal District Court, Washington, D.C., by the executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union in an effort to regain his passport.

His appearance on the campus is under the auspices of the Student Y and the Christian Action Committee of the Roger Williams Fellowship.

'Straw Hat' Actor's Wife Repels Would-Be Attacker

By HUGH MCGRAW

The complicated play, "Italian Straw Hat," led to complications for Harry Stephens, senior, Speech and Drama major, who is in the play.

Stephens' 26-year-old wife, Bettelu, was forced to fight off an attacker in her apartment Tuesday night while her husband was participating in the play's dress rehearsal.

MAN ON BED

Stephens, who arrived home a few minutes after the assailant fled, said that his wife awoke just before midnight to find a man sitting on her bed.

"I need money," the man said. "Do you feel the scissors on your neck?"

"My wife said she felt the scissors," said Stephens, "then she tried to warn him against threatening her and tried to get him out of the apartment."

STRUCK FOREHEAD

The man, who already had taken

$10 from Mrs. Stephens' purse in the living room, got up to leave. In an attempt to identify the man, Mrs. Stephens followed him into the kitchen. Apparently fearing identification, the man struck Mrs. Stephens across the forehead and then ran out through the door.

Police were at the apartment at 999 Dana Ave. most of the night, according to Stephens, but they failed to get any prints since the assailant took the scissors with him.

The only description that Mrs. Stephens, who didn't have her glasses on, could give was that the man was greying, in his late 40's, of medium build and wearing a tweed suit.

'STILL PRETTY UPSET'

"My wife is still pretty upset about the event," said Stephens.

Mrs. Stephens, who stayed with a friend until her husband came home, received a sedative Wednesday morning. Stephens said the shock seems to be causing his wife to lose her voice.

Police, when contacted, said the case was still under investigation.

Industrial Arts Building Bids To Be Opened

Bids for construction of a two-story industrial arts building at San Jose State will be opened in Sacramento, June 10, United Press reported yesterday.

SJS Executive Dean C. Grant Burton yesterday estimated total construction and equipment for the building would cost approximately $3,130,300. Actual construction is estimated at $2,595,300 and equipment is expected to add an extra $728,082.

Completion date is set for January, 1960, with the building to go into actual use during the 1960 spring semester. The structure will be located at the corner of San Fernando and Ninth streets.

Total square feet of the building is estimated at 111,310. Space also will be provided for ceramics and sculpture equipment, according to Burton.

Dean Burton also reported yesterday that two blocks should be completely purchased by the state for SJS dormitories, July 1. The two blocks are located between Seventh and Eighth, and Ninth and Tenth streets, between San Carlos and San Salvador.

New Council Backs Action

The newly elected Student Council voted yesterday to back the Student Activities Board and Student Court in the action that Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, was delinquent in submitting the evaluation forms required by March 28.

The evaluation form deadline, originally set for March 1, was extended to the new date at a mass meeting of student organizations.

ASB Pres, Dick Robinson said that the extension was actually done for the betterment of the organizations. He stated that the Student Council does not try to misrepresent anyone or any group.

In further Council business, application for student chairman of Spartan Foundation's fund-raising drive were opened.

IT'S ALL OFF

Forget the wedding. "It's all off my son; you've been acting like a boor," explains Nonancourt, father of the bride-to-be, in a scene from the coming production of "An Italian Straw Hat." Characters from left to right are, Robin, played by Lloyd Kerns; Helene, Judy Blaisdell; Nonancourt, Ivan Paulsen; and Fadinard, Don West. Jack of Hearts Ball Ticket Sales Close Tomorrow at 3:30

Ticket sales for the Jack of Hearts Ball close tomorrow at 3:30 p.m., Wilma Henderson, publicity chairman said today.

Bids for the ball, sponsored by the Independent Housing Council, are on sale in the Outer Quad beginning at 8 a.m. Costing $2.50 a ticket, each bid entitles the purchaser to cast a vote for the Jack of Hearts.

Six college men are competing for the honor of reigning over the ball scheduled for Saturday, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., in the ball room of the Ste. Claire Hotel. Ray Hackett and his orchestra will be on the bandstand.

Jack of Hearts contestants are Paul Bush, Chuck Rigdon, Ted Terzakis, Jack Tomlin, Dave Towle and Jim Wittenberg.

Bonnie Curley is chairman of the Jack of Hearts Ball which is being presented for the first time this year. Its sponsors report they hope to make the ball a college tradition.

PARIS—Premier Pierre Pflimlin yesterday ordered Gen. Raoul Salan, French commander in Algeria, to take charge of insurrection-ridden Algiers and restore order.

The move followed shortly after Pres. Rene Coty demanded loyalty from the 400,000 French troops in Algeria where a military-civilian junta seized power with a "Committee of Public Safety" and urged Gen. Charles De Gaulle to head up a new strong man government in Paris.

BEIRUT—The United States offered "police equipment" to Lebanon last night to "help this government maintain internal security."

It came after anti-government terrorists exploded two bombs near the U.S. Embassy in the sixth day of violence that had brought this tiny mid-east country to the brink of civil war.

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower said yesterday that anti-American demonstrations on three continents seem to have been generated by Communist exploitation of world troubles.

Put It in Writing

It appears that the Spartan Foundation, Inc., is going to have a rather tough time in its upcoming on-campus campaign.

The Foundation, originally set up to help pay SJS' increasing football bills, has announced that its aims have been expanded to include all worthy extracurricular activities. It has promises of/or on hand—about $20,000 at present, but would like to go into the new fiscal year with $30,000 or more. It hopes to get much of this additional cash from SJS students, whose school will benefit from the Foundation's work.

This seems fair enough. But we've noticed a distinct air of skepticism on campus. A great many students feel that in the end the Foundation will use the great bulk of its money for nothing more than feeding football players, and that the promises of something for everybody are nothing more than attractive lures for their hard-earned cash.

It's quite apparent that much of the Foundation's interest in debate teams and marching bands comes from the fact that a lot of big would-be contributors have insisted that their money go for things more cultural than fatter fullbacks.

But we take the Foundation's fine new aims at face value and believe with President Wahlquist that its leaders will try to spread the wealth around.

The Foundation's charter in fact says that its funds will go to a variety of campus activities and Foundation supporters have said the better the students respond, the more money will "overflow" into non-athletic activities.

All this sounds fine, but trying to convince the Spartan-in-the-Street that his money will go to debate teams and marching bands only if he divvies up enough cash to first support football isn't going to fall upon enthusiastic ears.

We think that the only way the Spartan Foundation can convince the mass of its prospective contributors at SJS that it's something more than a football front is to guarantee in writing that a certain percentage will go each year to academic activities.

This may seem a mite technical. And such a provision could stunt the athletic program during lean years when all Foundation funds will be needed for football.

But it's better than getting no funds at all from a student body which appears to have little confidence in the sincerity of the Foundation's very worthy aims.

Former Reporter Touring Europe Visits Red Country

(This is another in a series of articles by a former Spartan Daily reporter, Mel Guantz who is touring Europe.)

By MEL GUANTZ

Paris—If I felt the greatest apprehension I had ever experienced when entering Czechoslovakia, my sigh of relief on leaving that country must have dwarfed the former emotion.

Since arriving in Europe, my wife and I have wanted to visit one of the satellites: Either Poland, East Germany or Czechoslovakia. Mr. Dulles won't allow us to enter Hungary, Albania or Bulgaria.

So when I met the son of the Swedish ambassador to Prague in Stockholm, and he offered to take us with him through the Iron Curtain, I jumped at the chance.

The Czech consul in Copenhagen said that on such a short notice, he could only give us a two-day transit-visa. But if we wanted to stay longer we might get it lengthened in Prague.

It took only one hour and one dollar to get the visa. I began to think that the Iron Curtain was made from pretty flimsy material.

Two days driving brought us to the West German-Czech border. The German border official shook his head when he looked at our American passports and Czech visas. But he detained us only two or three minutes before raising the cross guard and waving us on with a not so merry "enjoy yourselves."

Our Swedish companion told us because we were Americans we could figure on at least a half hour delay at the Czech frontier.

As I left the German customs station, the woods ended and ahead there was nothing but barrenness. At the actual frontier two parallel barbed wire fences stretched off into the distance at right angles to the road.

Our friend told us that the 10 yard space in between the two high fences is solidly mined, making it impossible for anyone to cross the frontier except by the road.

And on either side of the road are two watch towers. From these, two machine-gun carrying guards watched us curiously as we approached the cross bars.

First we were greeted by an armed man in knee-high black boots and a green uniform with red shoulder boards. He seemed annoyed that we should bother him. Settling us in a waiting room, he disappeared with our papers for about 15 minutes, then came back and had me fill in a form with the usual questions (name, age, birthplace, profession, etc.).

Thief Frustrated By 'Mayday' Call

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Bul-let-proof glass and the international cry of distress—"Mayday"—yesterday frustrated an attempted holdup of the Veterans Taxicab Co.

Everett Johnson, 52, secretary-treasurer, was alone in the dispatcher's room counting out weekend receipts of about $5000 before sending the money to a bank.

He looked up to see a man wearing rubber gloves and carrying an automatic pistol motioning to him through the teller-type window to open up.

Johnson ducked behind a desk. The would-be robber tried to shove the gun under the window but it was too thick. Then he tried to break it with the gun but it only cracked.

Johnson pushed down all buttons on the company's radio switchboard and yelled, "Mayday!" The robber fled.

Johnson didn't know until later that two other robbers were involved and had forced bookkeeper Joaquin Gutierrez, 55, to lie on the floor in another room while the third man went after Johnson.

Beastly Pictures

Meanwhile, studio film makers went to work on another two films—"The House on Haunted Hill" and "Macabre."

Billy Graham Says S.F. Has 'Great Need'

By PETER J. HAYES

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Billy Graham said yesterday he has sensed an even greater "spiritual hunger" among San Franciscans than he did at his New York crusade last year.

And, said the blond evangelist, there has been far more teenager interest here than at New York or any previous meeting.

The San Francisco Crusade was off to a faster start than last year's 15½ weeks of meetings in Madison Square Garden. In the first 12 meetings here 198,000 persons turned out at the Cow Palace compared to 206,000 in the first 12 days in New York.

On a per capita basis, this was considerably more than in New York. The potential audience in New York was 15 million compared to 3,500,000 in the San Francisco Bay Region.

As for "Decisions For Christ," 7,284 came forward here compared to 7,713 in New York in the first two weeks.

"From a spiritual point of view I think there is a deeper work of God here than we saw in New York," Graham said. "The atmosphere of the meetings, the dedication of those who are working in the meetings is far beyond anything we had dreamed before we came."

He said San Francisco presented in many ways a greater challenge than New York. He cited the City's high suicide and alcoholic rates, along with the fact "San Francisco has never in its history had a united evangelistic crusade like this."

He said evangelists D. L. Moody and Billy Sunday had all been to New York and had successful meetings, but never visited San Francisco.

"One or two evangelists tried, but were virtual failures," he said.

"We of course came not knowing what to expect. Our faith was strong but we had doubts. But we have been overwhelmed by the response of the people. I think it is as great a spiritual hunger and even more so than I sensed in New York."

Graham said the meetings here have almost turned into a "Young People's Crusade." About three-quarters of the 18,000 attending each of the first two Thursday youth nights were teenagers and college students.

Of these, 992 responded to Graham's plea to "Come give your life for Christ" on the first Thursday night. The next Thursday 1,243 came forth, a record for any of his indoor meetings.

"I think the young people today are searching for answers to the mysteries of life," Graham said. "Many are finding answers in this crusade."

Graham predicted that the six- and possibly seven-week crusade would have a greater impact on community life here than the New York meetings had.

Dear Editor:

Last semester I wrote a letter deploring the lack of end-of-period bells to discipline sporadic instructors in Centennial Hall. This semester, and through no efforts of my own, I am sure, buzzers were put into operation. Now I have another, and somewhat paradoxical complaint to make: they are too long in ringing.

This may seem a very peculiar observation, but consider: science, I venture, would be hard put to come up with an instrument as sensitive in picking up sounds as a student anxiously awaiting the signal ending a class period. Most of them can detect the inaudible click of machinery dropping into place just before the buzzer sounds.

Probably a blip lasting one-tenth of a second would be sufficient; certainly a two or three-second buzzer should be enough to alert any but a stone deaf or deceased individual.

Press Box Chatter

By JOHN SALAMIDA... SPORTS EDITOR

San Jose State's football coaching staff has adopted an optimistic outlook for the approaching 1958 season. The Spartans open one of their strongest schedules in history Sept. 20 by battling University of Washington.

Spartan grid fans will be greeted by several new faces with transfer students sprinkled throughout the roster. Head Coach Bob Titchener and aides: Marty Feldman, Gene Menges and Max Cole plan to have 40 gridders on hand when practice opens in the fall.

SPRING BOWL GAME... Twenty sessions of spring practice concluded Saturday with the annual Spring Bowl game at Spartan Stadium. Line coach Marty Feldman reported yesterday that the players displayed a great deal of spirit.

Feldman said the varsity candidates worked intensely during the spring practice drills and there was keen competition for all positions. The assistant coach commented that no positions have yet been cinched, and all are still open.

The footballers participated in four game scrimmages with the Spring Bowl terminating practice. Student coaches assisting in drills were Harvel Pollard, Ron Woolverton and Jim Moore. "They did a very fine job," Feldman declared.

The line on the '58 club will be much beefier than last season, averaging 210-lbs. Lighter weight of the backfield would lower the team mark, however.

Defense outshone offense in the spring drills, the coaches reported. "The offense," Feldman stated, "is much more improved than last year."

MIXED ATTACK...

The Spartans plan to mix their attack between a hard running game and an aerial display. Should the local chiefs decide to take to the air, the Spartans have two good passing quarterbacks in Mike Jones and newcomer Emmett Lee.

Lee, who also saw action with the SJS baseball team this spring, was a surprise to the Spartan coaches. He impressed the mentors with his team leadership ability and his running power.

Jones, who lettered as a sophomore last season, hit his peak during the Spring Bowl contest, in which he completed 10 of 14 passes for 153 yards.

The locals will have plenty of depth in the line, with the tackle positions fortified by several good prospects. Returned lettermen Chuck Ennis has impressed at the tackle slot, along with Ken McNeese and Jim Wright.

Adding depth to the position are Howard Poyer, Ernie Ybarra, Manuel Elias and John Dakes.

APPLEDOORN SHINES... End Claron Appledorn, a transfer from Shasta Junior College, also was a surprise to the coaching staff. Along with lettermen Dan Colchico and soph Leon Donahue, the Spartans will be strong at the end spots.

Bill Atkins, who switched from tackle, and Ray Harrah top the guard prospects. Harrah, the smallest lineman, has more determination than men twice his size, Feldman said. Carl Mitchell, Dick Erler and Dick Cristofani have shown marked improvement.

Center aspirants are lettermen Ron Earl and Stan Tallant and a frosh graduate Less Atterberry. Halfback candidates showing good form were Sam Dawson, Dan Wassnick, Doug McChesney, 220-lb. Phil Cordero, Dave Hurlburt and Tom Uyeda. Fred Blanton, who was injured during the spring, will return in the fall.

Showing promise at fullback were John Colombero, Kent Rockholt and Rich Miley. Letterman Claude Gilbert, also sidelined with an injury, will return in the fall. Roger Weiland and Nelson Dake round out the quarterback aspirants.

SANGER, Calif. (UP)—Central California AAU officials announced yesterday Oklahoma State University has entered its 880 yard relay team for Sanger's track and field meet June 7.

Coach Ralph Higgins plans to send his quartet to Sanger several days in advance of the meet. The quartet ran a 1:22.9 in the event at the Texas Relays, two-tenths of a second off the world mark, and have swept aside all opposition since.

Besides the 880 relay, officials have added the 440 relay event to this year's program.

Named for the Dumpty Humpty "Cap" were Barouche, Beau Busher, Ben Host, Cardiff, Coverit, Dr. Bunny, Gold Cover, Grand Tudor, Poop-Deck, Princes Street, Star Realm 2nd, Timloch and Vino Supremo.

Relay Team In 440-Yard Race Friday

By RANDIE E. POE

Resolving not to run the legs off Ray Norton, SJS Coach Bud Winter will enter only his 440-yard sprint team in the Coliseum Relays at Los Angeles tomorrow night.

Originally, Winter had planned to unloose an 880-yard relay combo, but since rocketized Norton will go in the open 100, the SJS skipper feels an extra 220 would drain too much sap from Ray's slender legs.

Rapidly, Norton is becoming almost as popular as Coca-Cola.

He's receiving daily invitations to flit around the country, but Winter is guarding his meal ticket paternally to see that Norton is not exploited.

BANDWAGON HOPPERS

"They wanted him to run four races at Sanger," Winter jabbed, "but I won't let him do that, of course. Everybody is hopping on the bandwagon now after looking down their noses at us last season."

Norton, along with Garfield Finley, Bob Brooks and Kent Herkenrath, will join Winter on a 1 p.m. flight to L.A. today. The SJS contingent will check their luggage at the Sheraton Town House.

Saturday, the Spartan team will motor to Burlingame for the Pacific Amateur Assn. Meet. Norton may or may not run.

"He's our main consideration now," Winter offered. "If he feels well after the Coliseum races, he may go in one Burlingame race. But we can't overwork him."

Wrestling Tourney

With the semi-finals now out of the way, intramural wrestlers enter the finals of the all-campus wrestling tournament today, with activity due to start at 3:30 p.m. in the Men's Gym.

Thirty men have entered the two-day tourney, with both independent and fraternity men eligible.

A&M star Orlando Hazley will be there, but whether Bobby Morrow or Dave Sime will appear is uncertain.

NORTON'S READY

Yesterday, after one of his best workouts of the season, Norton told this writer, "I hope everybody shows up. I wish they'd have 20 lanes cutting right through the baseball field. I'm ready."

SJS' most spirited 440-yard relay foes will be Texas (40.3), Fresno State (40.8) and perhaps Oklahoma State (40.3) or Occidental (40.9). The Spartans, behind Norton's amazing leg, ran 40.7 to win this event at West Coast Relays last week.

One of the top events of the night will be the "Miracle Mile," a chewy get-together involving three sub-four minute spikers.

On hand will be Herb Elliott, a 20-year-old Australian, whose chest makes him look more like a piano tuner than a miler; Merv Lincoln; Laszlo Tabori; and perhaps Villanova record-crusher Ron Delany.

Elliott's coach, Percy Cerutti, said this week that his boy "has been conditioned to run a four-minute mile every time he competes. We feel that Herb falls

Macedo Heads Parade

New Swimming Marks Highlight Past Season

By HUGH SCOTT

Sophomore sensation Tom Macedo has two more years of competition ahead for San Jose State's varsity swimming team—plenty of time in which to continue battering Spartan backstroke and relay records.

Macedo can't help but consider the past pool season a success. He emplaned his name in three places on the record board which hangs from one wall at Spartan Pool.

Macedo's fondest memories stem back to Friday, April 25. It was on that date, with Fresno State challenging the locals, that all-out war was declared on the record book. Three standards fell.

Best clocking ever recorded by a Spartan for the 100-yard backstroke was 1:03.2. Macedo erased more than two seconds from the mark, winning the event in 1:00.9.

The 220-yard backstroke crown was already Macedo's baby. He'd done 2:18.6. Now he slashed over the course in 2:18.5.

Not yet finished, Macedo joined forces with Rich Donner, Lorne Brown and Dale Anderson son in the 400-meter relay. The watches caught San Jose State's entry in an unprecedented 4:13.1.

Needless to say, the Spartans captured the meet. The score was 62-24.

A slightly altered relay quartet blasted the 400-yard medley relay standard at the Pacific Association Senior swimming and diving championships at Santa Clara. Macedo, Donner, Anderson and Art Lambert splashed home in 4:13.4.

Lambert, frequently a dual meet double-winner, was another key team figure, specializing in the freestyle dashes. Further contributions came from Ron Riley in diving and Bill Augenstein in middle distance events.

Crown Defending Spartan Linksters To Vie in Tourney

Defending its West Coast Athletic Conference crown, San Jose State's golf squad will travel to Los Angeles this weekend to face six other teams in the WCAC Tournament.

The Spartan golf club took home the 1st place trophy last year at the La Rinconada Country Club in Los Gatos.

Other entrants in the tourney will be Pepperdine, Loyola, College of Pacific, University of San Francisco, St. Mary's and Santa Clara.

Coach Walt McPherson plans to take six boys to the tourney. Leading the Spartan golfers will be Eddie Duino and Jack Luceti. Both boys have been playing outstanding golf throughout this season. Luceti is carrying a 72 stroke average for SJS to lead the linksters.

Also slated to make the trip will be Harvey Kohs, Bill West and Keith Rockwell. A play-off between Jack Gooby and Stan Giddings will determine the sixth spot on the San Jose State traveling squad.

The SJS linksters, who are carrying a 10-3 win loss record, will face Cal Poly Friday at the Morro Bay Golf Course for the first Spartan action of the tourney.

Phi Epsilon Kappa Event Ends Saturday

The combination golf tourney and picnic sponsored by Phi Epsilon Kappa will come to a close Saturday with a picnic at Alum Rock Park.

The golf tourney, for all P.E. majors and minors and faculty members, started Monday and will continue until Saturday. The tournament is being staged at the Hillview Golf Course on Tully road.

Sign-ups are still being accepted for both the tournament and the picnic. The cost is $1.50 for the tourney and $1 for the steak dinner.

Persons may attend the picnic without entering the tournament.

The broadjump record for San Jose State has lasted for 16 years. In 1942, Willie Steele leaped 25-7 to set the mark.

Spartan Nine Ends Season

By JOHN SALAMIDA

San Jose State baseball team ended its 1958 season on a happy note yesterday by whipping St. Mary's, 13-1, at Moraga.

The Spartans parlayed Al McIntyre's five-hit mound effort with a 16-hit batting attack to capture 14th victory against the same number of losses. Coach Ed Sobczak's locals also dropped two non-scheduled practice tilts to Fresno State during the season.

McIntyre, mainstay on the Spartan pitching staff, turned in one of his top efforts of the season in taming the Gaels. He sent 10 opposing batsmen down via the strike out route and did not issue a walk.

Spartan batsmen fattened their batting averages in the season-closing victory by combining St. Mary's pitcher Jim Collie for 16 safeties. Eight of the SJS regulars collected one or more hits.

Outfielders Harvey Johnson and Buzz Ulrey and shortstop Jim Seith paced the attack with three singles each. Ulrey, a sophomore, whacked a home run in the fifth inning.

Second-sacker Jim Long, who lashed out two hits, doubled home three runs in the seventh, and McIntyre clubbed a 400-ft. ground-rule double in the fifth for other big blows.

The Spartans drew first blood in the contest with a lone tally in the opening canto. St. Mary's tied it up with an unearned run in the second, only to have SJS forge ahead in the third with three markers.

The winners added four runs in the fifth and seventh frames and concluded their efforts with one tally in the ninth.

"Although we had an up and down season," Coach Sobczak opined, "the players displayed a great deal of spirit." A former standout in professional baseball ranks, Sobczak completed his second season as Spartan diamond mentor.

'Jet' Perry Signs New 49er Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Joe (Jet) Perry, whose great comeback in the middle of last season helped propel the San Francisco Forty Niners into a playoff game against Detroit, signed with the pro football club today for his 11th year.

The veteran fullback was benched during most of the Forty Niners first seven games in 1957 while he shed weight and recovered from an injured knee. Then he bounced back into the lineup and gained approximately 400 yards in his last five contests.

In 10 seasons with the Forty Niners, Perry has gained 7192 yards on 1343 carries.

His National League total is 5791 yards for 1151 attempts.

Sigma Nu Dumps SAE; Plays ATO For A.L. Championship Monday

By CONRAD MUELLER

With both winning high-scoring games, ATO and Sigma Nu have ended the American League softball play with 4-1 records and a tie for first place, after last night's contests.

Sigma Nu dumped SAE from a first place tie, winning 13-1 behind the two hit pitching of Bob Ross. In addition to his fine pitching, Ross also banged out two hits to pace his team at the plate. Gary Leach also tagged a run scoring double, but Dave Engeleke turned in the defensive gem of the game as he made a back-to-the-infield running catch in left field. Bob McGetchin received the loss for SAE.

ATO poured the coals to winless KA, 18-0, as Claude Bolender threw a one-hitter, and homeruns decided the scoring. Len Whitlock smashed a grand-slam homer while Larry Cassou and Jack Brown also clipped out round-trippers. Ray Aliamus received the loss and Don Weber collected KA's only hit, a clean single.

Sigma Nu and ATO will meet at Columbus Street Park at 3:45 p.m. on Monday to decide the A.L. Championship and the right to meet the National League champion, probably unscathed on Theta Chi. The N. L. still has two games to play.

In yesterday's final action, the Phi Sigs romped all over Lambda Chi Alpha, scoring nine runs in the final inning to win 18-2. Bob George threw a four-hitter, while the Phi Sigs were busy picking up 17 hits off Dale Clark, the loser.

George Miller banged out a homerun and double, Jim Paris two singles and a double and Lash Turville two doubles and a triple.

Jim LeGate hit two singles for the losers.

Chuck Bolin was elected Outstanding Man in the Chapter for 1957-58, and Bill Bjorge received the title of Outstanding Outside Man for 1957-58.

Enjoy Spring Cleaning

CHICAGO (UP)—Most women actually look forward to spring cleaning, a recent survey showed.

The Sal Soda Institute said its survey showed that 61 per cent of the homemakers questioned said they liked the seasonal chore, 30 per cent said they disliked it and 9 per cent had no strong feelings either way.

The institute also asked husbands what they thought about spring cleaning.

"Their attitude was not favorable," it reported.

Man Defies Council

SHOREHAM, England, (UP)—Bill Wheel, 42, a prosperous garage owner, said yesterday he had promised a "show of force" in his fight with the West Sussex council and that he meant every word of it.

He already has parked five armored cars on his lawn and sent in an order for three Sherman tanks in protest against a council order that he cut the height of his garden wall by three feet.

Afterwards the upper classmen will hold a swimming party.

Prof Discusses U.S. Education

Criticism of American education will be discussed by Dr. Harold M. Hodges Jr., assistant professor of sociology, tonight at 7:30 in S142. His talk, which is being sponsored by CSTA, is entitled "Contemporary Education . . . Progressive or Regressive?"

Dr. Hodges said, "Education is no longer a hum-drum, neutral word. Subjected to withering crossfire from all sides, American schooling is now a fighting term. 'It's crucial that tomorrow's teachers . . . of all people . . . must face up to this controversy.'"

"In the past, it was essentially the reactionary who sniped at our schools; but today's criticism is less venomous, more rational, more 'egg-headish.'"

"Much of this contemporary brand of criticism is still vitriolic; but much more is coldly analytical and incisive."

Dr. Hodges also said, "It is critical, then, that our educators-in-the-making stop playing the ostrich role; they can't afford to hide their heads in the comfortable sand."

"They'll make far more effective teachers if they critically analyze this current wave of criticism," he said.

His talk will be focussed on the more rational aspects of this criticism.

Open discussion will be held after the talk and refreshments will be served.

OT Club Holds Annual Barbecue Saturday

The Occupational Therapy Club will hold its annual overnight cook-out beginning Saturday at 2 p.m. and ending Sunday at 6 p.m. at Stevens Creek Children's Camp.

Audrey Squires, OT Club publicity chairman, stated that activities will include swimming and games.

Woman's World

By CHARLENE SHATTUCK Society Editor

How many colors are there in the world today?

If you pick up any one of the leading fashion magazines, you may discover some colors that you never dreamed existed.

As an example, here are a few colors I discovered in the fashion ads of the following well-known magazines.

Ladies' Home Journal: Peony Red, Lemon-peel Yellow, Tropical Pink.

Charm: Ruby Red, Honeyglow, Delphinium Blue, Bark Beige, Hibiscus Red.

Seventeen: Waterlily White, Ice Blue, Blush Pink, Nile Green.

Harper's Bazaar: Night Black, Green Olive.

Vogue: Aqua Frost, Coffee Bean, Sunshine Shades, Sizzle-Colours, Glamour: Midnight Blue, Desert Sun.

Mademoiselle: Cornflower Blue, Chestnut Brown, Ice Cold Blue, Red Hot Pink.

Would you recognize these colors if you saw them?

Getting married? The summer issue of Bride and Home says "Every Bride Should Know" that when announcing one's engagement "a thoughtful gesture is to write short notes to your ex-beaux before they read the news in the paper." One SJS coed suggested you might begin tactfully, "It's not that I don't like you, Joe . . ."

New Group Hopes To Establish Better Greek Relations

The Daughters of Minerva is a new organization on campus made up of girls who are selected for membership by members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

The purpose of the group is "to try to establish better relations with other Greek organizations and the college at large," according to Joanne Bonasio, publicity chairman.

Other officers are Judy Hanson, president; Judy MacDonald, vice president; Sharon Thomas, secretary; Zoe Bergmann, treasurer; and Joanne Bonasio, historian and publicity chairman.

The members and their sororities include Claire Wellenkamp, Linda Burdette, Zoe Bergmann, Alpha Phi; Marsha Hodgson, Sharon Thomas, Alpha Chi-Omega; Jane Hamilton, Ellen Stepovich, Betsy O'Gara, Delta Gamma; Marlene Brandin, Merle Morris, Gamma Phi Beta; Didi Fowler, Bon Soe, Marge Schmutz, Judy MacDonald, Kappa Alpha Theta; and Joanne Bonasio, Judy Hanson, Sigma Kappa. In addition there are three married members including Dinah Ming, Betty Toshi and Lois Davis; and one girl who is pinned to an SAE, Kay Lockwood.

The girls can be recognized by their white blouses inscribed with the insignia of Daughters of Minerva.
